

Ali Askari

High School Math

Ali Askari moved to the United States from Iran. He worked his way through college, earning a degree in engineering physics at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford and attended the University of Oklahoma and University of Central Oklahoma where he has completed graduate courses in engineering physics.

Mr. Askari found his love for teaching after substitute teaching for several years. Mr. Askari is certified in advanced high school math and intermediate math. Mr. Askari has a gift for bringing math ability out in his students. In addition to teaching math at ASTEC, he is also a private tutor for high school students.
