

Derek Blow

7th Grade Math

Derek Blow is originally from southern California. She found her way to Oklahoma on a softball scholarship to Northwestern Oklahoma State University where she earned her Bachelor of Science degree in mathematics.

While in school, Ms. Blow's math teachers had the greatest impact on her education. Their love and passion for math was contagious and she is excited to pass her own love and passion for math to her new students this year.

Ms. Blow has a young son, Clayton, who is the light of her life.

Outside of school, she loves to play slow-pitch softball and spend time with her friends and family. She is a big fan of the UCLA Bruins college softball team.

Ms. Blow is very excited for her new adventure as a teacher at ASTEC!
